Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35

U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
  2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
  3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
  4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.
3. Claims 1, 4, 6, and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Welt et al (USP 5,400,382).

Welt et al teaches a method of irradiating an article from a radiation source 27, including the steps of providing the radiation from the source in a particular direction, providing a container (carrier means) for containing the article, absorbing the radiation energy in accordance with the irregularities in the article to maintain desired radiation dosage, and moving the article past the radiation from the source in a direction transverse to the particular direction (col.3, lines 10-15; col.4, lines 1-17; col.5, lines 48-52; and Figure 1). This will achieve the desired uniformity of the radiation dosage (col.7, lines 60-65). Note that sensor means is used to control the dosage of irradiation. Moreover, Welt et al discloses controlling the speed (col.3, lines 49-54). The control means of Welt et al would have been capable of attaining a constant speed. In

Double Patenting

4. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

5. Claims 2, 3, 5, 6, 8-46 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 3, 4, 6, 7, 9-36, 39, 42-44 of copending Application No. 09/872441. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other.

Specifically, the subject matter of the instant claims is encompassed in their entirety by the copending claims except that the instant claims also require a container for the articles. It is not deemed patentable to provide a container for holding the articles being irradiated by the method and apparatus of 09/872441, as containers are commonly employed for ease of handling. As such, the use of containers would have been obvious in the method and apparatus of 09/872441.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Drawings

6. The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they include the following reference character(s) not mentioned in the description: Reference letter G in Figure 2 is not described in the specification. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d), or amendment to the specification to add the reference character(s) in the description in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(b) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

7. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: Page 12, line 13 refers to "chub 14". However, on page 10 line 14 the conveyor was given the reference numeral 14.

Appropriate correction is required.
